VOL. 13 NO. 228.

IN THE RECORDER'S COURT.

MR. DAVENPORT DISPOSES OF A SALVATION ARMY FLIRTATION.

Then He Nullifies the City Attorney's Explanation of a Slip of the Tongue and Explains the Comprehensive Nature of the Recorder's Duties.

The particulars of the row between Leonard D. Collier, the one-eyed ex-sergeant of the Salvation Army who was cut off from his wife, and his wife, Mrs. Collier, are as follows: Roberts, an employee of the Cordon Crocker Co., which took place in the Salvation Army hall at the corner of Eleventh and Walnut streets last Sunday evening, were rehearsed in the police court room. The case, which had been on the calendar for a period of two hours, the case against Collier was the first tried. The witnesses who testified against him were Roberts, whose peace he was charged with destroying, and Athol, Thomas Sigmund and George J. Martin. For the defense, witnesses were Collier, Wm. Hamill, Mrs. Collier, and Mrs. Emma Creek. The testimony showed that last Sunday evening Mrs. Collier was sitting in the hall when she was approached by her sat Roberts, and a few seats farther back Collier was seated. One of the hallmen had been sent to the office of the manager of a paper called "The War Cry," and Roberts purchased one and handed it to Mrs. Collier, who was reading it. The manager and both men all over the country are surrounded with orders that for a time he was unable to procure the necessary power in time. But the contracts for the en- gine and his way forward, and when he will be upon the ground before the hearing is ready for him. The electric light company of Chicago. The manager of the corporation are determined that there shall be no cheap and easy way out of the trouble on the grounds, and they have, therefore, engaged men who are figuring on building a hotel there, and they plan their plans for examination in order that they may be approved by the court. "I am the woman after services?"

On cross-examination Roberts testified that when he wrote to him it did not intend for any particular purpose.

"Was it intended for a man?" asked the defendant's attorney.

"What did you want it could have, if either male or female."

What was on his cross-examination, Roberts' attorney asked?

"Isn't it true that you were brought into this country to play the injured husband racket at that you have given $100 and given six hours to the city?"

"What was that?" asked the attorney.

"Yes, it is true, but that was a year ago."

"I understand it was the defendant's attorney who is the plaintiff in this case?"

"The defendant's attorney pleaded vigorously for his client's release on the ground that he was justified in making the assault as his wife had threatened him."

Recorder Davenport held that the woman willingly received the note, which he thought was being held by the husband, and that he was firing going on. He discharged Roberts and fined Collier $15.

The Recorder Discusses His Position.

J. W. Ellis, Henry Sager, W. L. Moore, and George Brown, the Law Department, all commissioners on the public square, who were arrested for having no licenses were discharged on payment of costs—$2 each, having taken out licenses before coming into court.

Mr. Davenport, who is the attorney for prisoners, asked that they be discharged as they were paying the city $1 per month rent. The records show they were more entitled to a discharge if that had not received the promise of a private individual. Ridgeway said that it was not just to require them to take out licenses.

"The court makes ordinances and the judge is not bound by them," said Mr. Davenport, "Then I quickly added, "Your Honor, instead of 'interpret' I mean to say 'endorse,' and I wish to express my remark."

"You are the first man to add it how ever. That is the way I would add it if it was a city official does my duty. However, I have that power."

"I understand it was vested in the circuit court judge."

"The circuit court of the city and pass upon all city ordinances."

"Has the criminal court no power in the matter?"

"I am the criminal court as far as that question is concerned."

Mr. F. M. Clegg, Mrs. F. Clegg.

J. B. Wallenborn was fined $5 for disturbing the peace of Mrs. Clegg, who lives at the corner of Eleventh and Harrison.

It was noon when the McLaughlin case was concluded and court then adjourned to the city court, where it will be adjourned to the 10th.

It is now proposed to have the road occupy one block on Main street. Petitions are being circulated among the residents of Sixth and Missouri avenue and Sixth street and nearly all the ladies live on Gillis street between Missouri and Main street, and nearly all the ladies were on hand to testify as to the quarrel between the two women which took place Wednesday last.

Piano Players Not Vagrants.

The police are making war on piano players and bartenders in north side disorderly houses. R. E. Washburn, a boy of 17 years, who makes a living by playing pianos, was in court this morning charged with vagrancy.

The court postponed the trial to next Monday, when the two will be tried, yesterday, for vagrancy and discharged.

Mr. Reilly and Mrs. Mosier, both charged with vagrancy, were discharged. The two ladies live on Gillis street between Missouri and Main street and nearly all the ladies were on hand to testify as to the quarrel between the two women which took place Wednesday last.

ADMIRERS OF President CLEVELAND may be somewhat credulous of statements regarding his achievements, but they are not called upon to credit the story that in one day he caught with hook and line over two hundred fish.

It is a high protective tariff is the boon for labor which it advocates claim it is; why is it that during the last year ninety-five thousand workmen in the United States went out on a strike? The facts don't support the protective theory.

The Legislature of Illinois is about to pass a bill appropriating $145,000 for the State militia. In Missouri no such foolishness is permitted. The Legislature refused to make any appropriation and allowed the militia to disband for want of funds.

Two school teachers at Henderson, Ky., got into a quarrel in the school room, when one drew a revolver and began to perforate the other with bullets. This may be the Kentucky notion of teaching the young idea how to shoot, but Missouri has no desire to import the Kentucky method.

THE Indianapolis News says: "Philadelphia is going to have rapid transit, and she is going to sell the franchise. The spirit against giving away city privileges is spreading everywhere." The Philadelphia idea should prevail here. There is no reason why the city should give away a street railway franchise or any other privilege or property that has a market value.

"The Czar of all the Russias" has the largest empire in the world, but he is reported as being fired with the zeal for becoming Emperor of Asia. His ambition for Empire has no bounds. To a lay member of a Republic it looks as if the Czar ought to compose his own subjects and make Nihilism unpopular in his present domains, before he seeks to make his ukase good over all Asia.

THE reckless "Bad Knobbers" should be suppressed. If they are not promptly weeded out Missouri will continue the reputation given the state by the "James gang." The state for its own reputation should clear the Ozark region of the lawless scoundrels who are terrorizing the people there and making property insecure and life uncertain. Missouri is too old a state to have any toleration of robbers and murderous bushwhackers.

Not a new wing is to be built to the old state house at Jefferson City, but the old building is to be patched, and for this purpose stone is to be imported from another state. What is the matter with the building stone of Missouri? Is it not good enough for patching up the old structure? The tendency of states, like that of individuals, to buy away from home should never find any encouragement with the people when the desired article can be had at home, of as good quality and at as low a price as the imported one.

EDWARD O'BRIEN's attack on Lord LANSDOWNE has had no effect in depressing his influence or reputation with the home government in England. It is announced that among the favors to be given away during the jubilee celebration is a dukedom for the noble Lord. Cruelty to Irish tenants on the part of English landlords is no bar to promotion with the queen. She regards evictions not as crimes, but as the fulfillment of English laws. Lord LANSDOWNE must learn of his promotion with feelings of comfort. He will be able to regard it as a vindication among his countrymen.

It is made known now that President CLEVELAND had been invited by a committee of the Grand Army of the Republic to attend the National encampment, and this invitation was supplemented by one extended to him by the people. The invitation was proper and one of courtesy for the committee to extend to the President, who is by the constitution of the country made commander-in-chief of the army. The G. A. R. officers who are trying to revoke this act of common courtesy will be pleased to find that the "wreath" they toss at her head in the air, inquiring, "Where can I get what I want?"

Confidence in the Public.

From the Rochester Post-Express.

It is a pitiful thing to see a man stand by the roadside with a box of baggage, and the bairn thrown to him by the passing crowd.

The bairn, though it is the bairn, and the bairn spreads his legs, swings his club—and beats the air. He never seems to hit anything, and after a while he misses his last blow, and falls to the ground, the bairn.
